

Code of Conduct for Governing Body Members February, 2020

Consultation completed:	February, 2020
Approved:	25 February, 2020
Review Date:	February, 2023

Our Vision

Excellent housing in vibrant communities.

Our Values

Respect

We see the positive in everyone, especially our tenants. We treat everyone fairly, regardless of age, race, gender, sexuality or background. We ask for opinions even if we know we might not like what we hear. And we address people's concerns in any way we realistically can.

Integrity

What we say in public is the same as what we say behind the scenes. If we say we'll do something, we mean it. Our tenants can count on us to solve their problems and make sound decisions.

Aspiration

We want the best for all our current and future tenants. We're not afraid to strive for things that won't be easy – or try things that haven't been done before. We seek out opportunities and welcome change. If it doesn't turn out as planned, we learn and improve again. And then we try again.

Our Strategic Objectives

1. Build more desirable homes in popular neighbourhoods
2. Deliver more excellent services to suit our tenants' lives
3. Invest in our people to grow and develop their skills
4. Find more ways to ensure value for money
5. Continue to challenge poverty
6. Put even more focus on community health and wellbeing
7. Be ready for opportunities

Introduction

There are references throughout this Code of Conduct (the Code) to 'you' and 'your' which means the member of the Governing Body of the Queens Cross Group who has signed this Code. References to 'we', 'us' and 'our' means Queens Cross Housing Association as the Parent member of the Group.

- 1.1 We attach the greatest importance to ensuring that high standards of governance and ethical behaviour are demonstrated by all of our people and in all of our activities.
- 1.2 This Code of Conduct sets out the requirements and expectations which are attached to your role as a member of a Governing Body in the QC Group. You have a personal responsibility to uphold the requirements of this Code. You cannot be a member of a QC Group Governing Body if you do not agree to adopt this Code of Conduct. To confirm that you understand its requirements and accept its terms, you must review and sign this Code annually.
- 1.3 As a Registered Social Landlord (RSL), we are required to adopt and comply with an appropriate Code of Conduct. This Code is based on the Model Code of Conduct produced by the Scottish Federation of Housing Associations. The Scottish Housing Regulator (SHR) has confirmed that this Code fully complies with its Regulatory Standards and their input during the production of this code is acknowledged. All members of Governing Bodies in the QC Group are required to sign up to the same Code of Conduct.
- 1.4 This Code of Conduct is an important part of our governance arrangements. Members of the Governing Body are responsible for ensuring that they are familiar with the terms of this Code and that they always act in accordance with its requirements and expectations. Governing Body Members must always ensure their actions accord with the legal duties of the QC Group and with all regulatory guidance. You must also ensure that you are familiar with any policies which are linked to this code.
- 1.5 If a member of the Governing Body appears to have breached any part of this Code, the matter will be investigated in accordance with the procedures set out at (Appendix 2). A breach of this Code may result in action being taken by the Housing Association Board as the Parent member of the Group to remove the member(s) involved.

Who the Code applies to

- 2.1 This Code of Conduct applies to all elected, appointed and co-opted members of our Governing Body and its sub-committees within the Queens Cross Group.

How the Code is structured

3.1 The Code is based on the seven principles which are recognised as providing a framework for good governance. They demonstrate honesty, integrity and probity.¹

Each principle is described, as it applies to the activities of the Group and its Governing Body Members, and supporting guidance is offered for each to provide more explanation of the Code's requirements. The guidance is not exhaustive and it should be remembered that Governing Body Members responsible for ensuring that their conduct at all times meets the high standards that the RSL sector is recognised for upholding.

4.1 The seven principles and what they mean for the purposes of this Code are:

B. Openness (page 6)

C. Honesty (page 7)

D. Objectivity (page 8)

E. Integrity (page 9)

F. Accountability (page 10)

G. Leadership (page 11)

If you have read and understood the terms of this Code of Conduct and agree to uphold its requirements in all your activities as a member of our Governing Body you should sign the Declaration on page 22 and return to the Executive Office.

Declaring and Managing Personal Interests

1. Introduction

- 1.1 Being a Governing Body Member is of course only one part of your life. Other aspects of your life - such as family, friends and neighbours, voluntary work, causes you support, possibly business or financial interests, possibly your own housing arrangements - may have the potential to cross over into your role as a Governing Body Member.
- 1.2 However, as we work for the community [and uses public funds], it is essential that there is no conflict - and that there can be no reasonable perception of conflict - between your duties as a Governing Body Member and your personal (or personal business or financial) interests.
- 1.3 Any potential conflict between your position as a Governing Body Member and your other interests must be openly declared and effectively managed so as to protect the good reputation of Queens Cross Group and the RSL sector.
- 1.4 Where you have a personal business or financial interest in any matter that is relevant to our activities or is being considered (or is likely to be considered) or you know that someone to whom you are closely connected has such an interest, you must declare it promptly and record it in the Register of Interests.
- 1.5 This Appendix gives further guidance on how to declare and manage any personal (including personal business or financial) interests.

2. Examples of interests that must be declared

- 2.1 The following are examples of the kind of interest that you must declare. Please note that this list is not exhaustive, and there may be other interests that you should also declare.
 - Tenancy or lease of a property (by you or someone to whom you are closely connected) of which we are the landlord.
 - Occupancy or ownership of a property (by you or someone to whom you are closely connected) which is factored or receives property related services from us.
 - Ownership of land or property in our areas of operation (including for the purpose of your own residential use)
 - Receipt of care or support services from us.
 - Membership of a community or other voluntary organisation that is active in the area(s) we serve.
 - Voluntary work with another RSL or with an organisation that does, or is likely to do, business with us.
 - Membership of the governing body of another RSL.

- Being an elected member of any local authority where we are active.
 - If you purchase goods or services from us.
 - Significant shareholding in a company that we do business with.
 - Membership of a political, campaigning or other body whose interests and/or activities may affect our work or activities.
 - Unresolved dispute relating to the provision of services in connection with a tenancy or occupancy agreement or a contractual dispute over the provision of goods or services with us.
- 2.2 If you are not sure whether a certain matter needs to be declared, you must seek guidance from the Chief Executive. If doubt remains, the advice would always be to declare the matter.
- 2.3 You should note that in some circumstances, declaration of an interest may not be sufficient, and that it may be necessary for the organisation to take additional measures to deal satisfactorily with the situation so as to protect the probity and reputations of both yourself and the Group
- 3. Definition of 'close connection'
- 3.1 Someone 'closely connected' to you includes family members and persons who might reasonably be regarded as similar to family members even where there is no relationship by birth or in law.
- 3.2 As well as considering your own actions, you must be aware of the potential risk created by the actions of people to whom you are closely connected. Who you should consider, and our expectations of you to identify and declare such actions are outlined in Table A on page 15.

Table A

Group	Required Response
1. Members of your household This includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Anyone who normally lives as part of your household (whether related to you or otherwise) • Those who are part of your household but work or study away from home 	We expect you to be aware of and declare any relevant actions of all people in your household. You must take steps to identify, declare and manage these.
2. Partner, Relatives and friends This includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Your partner (if not part of household) • Your relatives and their partners • Your partner’s close relatives (i.e. parent, child, brother or sister) • Your close friends • Anyone you are dependent upon or who is dependent upon you • Acquaintances (such as neighbours, someone you know socially or business contacts/associates) 	Where you have a close connection and are in regular contact with anyone within this group, we expect you to be aware of and declare any relevant actions. Under these circumstances, you must take steps to identify, declare and manage these actions. Where you do not have a close connection and regular contact with someone in this group, we do not expect you to be aware of or to go to unreasonable lengths to identify any relevant actions. However, if you happen to become aware of relevant actions by such individuals, then these should be declared and managed as soon as possible.

What You Need To Consider

3.3 The following are the relevant actions /involvement by those to whom you are closely connected that you should consider, declare and manage as per our expectations outlined in Table A:

- A significant interest in a company or supplier that with the Group does business with. A significant interest means ownership (whole or part) or a substantial shareholding in a business that distributes profits, but does not include where an individual has shares in large companies such as banks, utility companies or national corporations, i.e. where owning shares would not give the individual any significant influence over the activities of that organisation.

- Where the individual may benefit financially from a company with which the Group does business
- Involvement in the management of any company or supplier with which the Group does business
- Involvement in tendering for or the management of any contract for the provision of goods or services to the Group
- Application for employment with the Group.
- Application to join our Parent Board or any of its subsidiaries
- Application to be a tenant or service user of the Group
- If they are an existing tenant or service user of the Group

4. Practical Arrangements for Declaring personal interests

- 4.1 Governing Body Members and staff are required, on appointment, to complete a form to register any personal interests that could potentially conflict with their role. Governing Body Members thereafter are required to complete a new form annually and they are given an opportunity to declare any new interests at the start of every meeting.
- 4.2 You must keep your entry in the Register of Interests up to date, add any new interests as soon as they arise, and amend existing interests as soon as any change takes effect.
- 4.3 A situation may arise where you are invited to be present at a meeting where a matter in which you have a personal (or a personal business or financial) interest is discussed. In such cases you must inform the meeting Chair at the start of the meeting, or as soon as you become aware that this is the case. You would then be required to leave the meeting for the duration of the particular item. If in any doubt, you should ask the meeting Chair or another senior person present for guidance. This applies to all meetings that you attend as a Governing Body Member – both internal and external.
- 4.4 Any failure to make a complete, accurate and prompt declaration - whether deliberately or through taking insufficient care - will be regarded as a breach of this Code.

Protocol for Dealing with a Breach of the Code of Conduct

1. This procedure sets out the arrangements that will normally apply to potential breaches of the Code of Conduct, which are defined as follows:
 - a Breaches of the Code of Conduct (the Code) that occur during a meeting and involve a member being obstructive, offensive or disregarding the authority of the Chair
 - b Other complaints about the conduct of a Member of the Governing Body
 - c Information that suggests that there may have been a breach of the Code by a member of the Governing Body.
- 2 The Chair has delegated authority to deal with potential breaches of the Code, subject to Clause 2.1 below. The Chair of the Parent Board has delegated authority, in consultation with other office-bearers, to instruct, progress and conclude investigations carried out in accordance with this protocol.
- 3 A breach of the Code is a Notifiable Event, The Chair of the Parent Board is responsible for ensuring that the necessary notifications are made to the Scottish Housing Regulator as soon as any breach comes to light, and that the SHR's requirements (as set out in the relevant guidance⁷) in terms of reporting the outcome of the investigation are met.

Conduct at meetings

- 2.1 Alleged breaches that occur during the course of a meeting (and which have not happened before) will normally be dealt with by the Chair or sub-committee or subsidiary Chair, either during the meeting and/or within 24 hours of the meeting. In these circumstances, the Chair may ask the member to leave the meeting or a vote may be taken to exclude the member from the rest of the meeting. After the meeting, the Chair or sub-committee or subsidiary Chair will discuss such behaviour with the member and may require the member to apologise or take such other action as may be appropriate. Where the Chair regards such behaviour as being very serious, it may also be investigated subsequently in accordance with the terms of this protocol, as will repeated incidents of a similar nature.

Other Complaints

- 3.1 It is recognised that potential breaches of the Code of Conduct may occur beyond Queens Cross Group premises (e.g. whilst a Governing Body member is at an external meeting, attending a training event or conference or otherwise representing us, or whilst engaging in social networking). Potential breaches may also involve inappropriate conduct in relation to colleagues, staff or service users. Potential breaches may also involve failure to follow the requirements of an approved policy.

- 3.2 A potential breach of the Code, including repeated instances of poor conduct at meetings, will normally be the subject of an investigation, which will be managed by the Chair of the Parent Board.
- 3.3 Not all potential breaches will be the subject of complaints or allegations. Where they are, they do not have to be made in writing but the Chair of the Parent Board and Secretary/Senior Officer should ensure that there is always a written statement of the complaint or allegation that is used as the basis for the investigation.
- 3.4 In the event that an allegation is made anonymously, it will be investigated as thoroughly as possible, although it is recognised that it may not be possible to conclude any such investigation satisfactorily.

Investigation of a potential breach

- 4.1 Allegations of a breach should normally be made to the Chair of the Parent Board or, where the complaint relates to the Chair of the Parent Board, to another office-bearer. The Chair or office-bearer, in consultation with the other office-bearers, will decide whether to instruct an independent investigation or whether to carry out an internal investigation. No one who has any involvement in the complaint or the circumstances surrounding it will play any part in the investigation.
- 4.2 A potential breach of the Code of Conduct (other than that which is being dealt with as described at 2.1) will be notified to the Parent Board by the Secretary within seven working days either of occurring or of receipt of the complaint. The notice will include a report on the proposed arrangements for investigation (but will not describe the detail of the complaint) and a recommendation of a suitable person to carry out the investigation. This recommendation should be made by the Chair of the Parent Board who may seek advice from our solicitors.
- 4.3 All investigations will be objective and impartial. A potential breach of the Code of Conduct will normally be investigated by an independent person, unless it is decided that an internal investigation is appropriate (as set out at 4.1).
- 4.4 An internal investigation will be carried out by three Members of the Governing Body, not including the Chair, who will make a report and recommendations to the Governing Body. They will be supported in the conduct of the investigation by a member of the Executive Team.
- 4.5 Where the potential breach relates to the Chair of the Parent Board or other office bearer, an independent investigation will always be carried out.
- 4.6 An independent investigation will normally be overseen by the Chair of the Parent Board and one other office bearer, with support from a member of the Executive Team. In the event that the alleged breach relates to the Chair of the Parent Board, one of the other office-bearers will act to fulfil the responsibilities ascribed to the Chair.

- 4.7 The Chair and other office-bearer, with any support they feel necessary, will brief the agreed advisor/investigator and then consider their recommendations at the end of the investigation, before reporting to the Parent Board. The Queens Cross Group should always provide the investigator with a written brief that sets out the nature of the complaint and of the investigation to be carried out, as well as a timescale for completion and reporting. The brief may refer to any action previously taken that is relevant. Investigations should not usually take more than six weeks to conclude. The advisor/investigator will normally present their report to the Parent Board.
- 4.8 Any investigation of a potential breach should be notified to the individual concerned within seven days of the decision to investigate. The Governing Body Member must be notified in writing of the nature of the complaint and the arrangements proposed for investigation.
- 4.9 The Governing Body Member whose conduct is being investigated will not be party to any of the discussions relating to the investigation. Any Governing Body Member who is the subject of a complaint is expected to co-operate with any investigation carried out. The Parent Board should agree to grant leave of absence to a member who is the subject of a complaint whilst an investigation is carried out.
- 4.10 A meeting of the Parent Board will be held to consider the report and recommendations from the investigation and to determine what action should be taken against any individual who is found to have been in breach of the Code.
- 4.11 The Parent Board will report the findings of the investigation and the proposed action to the member concerned within seven days of the meeting at which the report of the investigation was considered.
- 4.12 Where, following an investigation, it is concluded that a serious breach has occurred, the Parent Board may require the member to stand down from their position in accordance with the Rules or governing document of a subsidiary Board.
- 4.13 If the Parent Board proposes to remove a member, following investigation, the member will have the right to address the full Parent Board before their decision is taken at a special meeting called for that purpose. Any such decision must be approved by a majority of the remaining members of the Parent Board.

Action to Deal with a Breach

- 5.1 If, following investigation, a breach of the Code is confirmed, action will be taken in response. This action will reflect the seriousness of the circumstances. It may take the form of some or all of the following:
- an informal discussion with the member concerned
 - advice and assistance on how his or her conduct can be improved
 - the offer of training or other form of support
 - a formal censure
 - a vote to remove the Governing Body Member
- 5.2 The outcome of any investigation will be notified to the Scottish Housing Regulator.

Definitions

- 6.1 The Queens Cross Group will regard the following actions as a “serious breach” of the Code of Conduct (this list is not exhaustive):
- Failure to act in our best interests and/or acting in a way that undermines or conflicts with the purposes for which we operate.
 - Support for, or participation in, any initiative, activity or campaign which directly or indirectly undermines or prejudices our interests or those of our service users, or our contractual obligations.
 - Accepting a bribe or inducement from a third party designed to influence the decisions we make.
 - Consistent or serious failure to observe the terms of the Code of Conduct.

Approval and Review

- 7.1 This protocol was approved by the Governing Body of Queens Cross Housing Association on 25 February 2020. It will be reviewed immediately following its implementation to deal with a potential breach or not later than 2023, whichever is the earlier.
